Would it be possible to have the DMEPOS Enrollment Status Letters sent to the contact person on file (when requested by the provider) vs. having them sent through the mail? Many of our managed care payors require this letter to revalidate, and it currently takes approximately 7-10 days to receive the letters via the mail. Having the availability to receive them via an email would not only save time, but it may also save money by not having to mail them to providers. 	We have currently been working to have emailing the status letter as an option to the contact person on file as an option when requesting the letter.
